Faculty in the Art program are using the ArtStor digital media library as a source for high-quality images, and to store their own collection of images. Chemeketa has an institutional license, managed by the Chemeketa Library.

The ARTstor Digital Library is a nonprofit resource that provides more than one million digital images in the arts, architecture, humanities, and sciences. ARTstor’s software enables users to work with the more than one million images in the Digital Library for research and pedagogical purposes.
